CHANGING WIND HELPS FOREST FIRE SITUATION

TOWN OF ARTHYDE MAY BE SAVED FATE WHITE PINE TOWN

FIRES THREATENING TOWN OF SOLANA ARE UNDER CONTROL THIS MORNING

FIRES BELIEVED INCENDIARY—HEAVY LOSSES NEAR ONAMIA

(By United Press)

RAIN FALLING

McGrath, Minn., Sept. 7—A light rain began falling in this fire sector at 1 p. m. today and state officials were hopeful that it would help stamp out the fire menace.

While four inches of rain are needed to end the fire, it was believed the rain starting today would be only a steady drizzle. There as no hope of a soaking rain.

The fire situation around Solana and toward Arthyde was reported unchanged this afternoon. There was little wind.

McGrath, Minn., Sept. 7—Efforts of forest fire fighters in this section today were bent on svaing the villages of Solana and Arthyde.

Solana was completely hemmed in by forest fires and villagers were deserting today in fear that the wind would spring up again. Some fled yesterday while White Pine was burning.

Captain Frankel in charge of the military headquarters here, said 300 men were fighting flames near Solana and hoped to eliminate further danger before the wind springs up again. A light breeze from the southeast today was favorable for all fires except the threatening Solana and Arthyde fires.

Reports from Willow River said the fire south of Arthyde made the situation there dangerous today. Fires in Morrison county were said to be under control. Fires six miles west of Onamia were reported to have gotten under control. The villages of Hillman and Johnsdale were believed out of danger.

Reports to military headquarters here said the fires on the north shore of Lake Superior were partly under control. Guardsmen from St. Paul were due today at the Knife river fire.

There was an eighteen mile off shore wind at Duluth early today and this was considered a favorable factor in fighting the flames both at Willow River and Two Harbors. The wind was blowing out of the northwest—exactly opposite from the general direction of the wind farther south.

McGrath, Minn., Sept. 7—A light wind blowing out of the southeast today helped the forest fire situation in this section.

A blaze which stretched out ten miles from north to south and threatened Arthyde may be headed off if troopers with the aid of the change of wind are able to establish a new fire line.

Fires south of Solana were pretty well under control early today residents there told the United Press.

They are ready to move on a moment's notice and have been for three days. Today it was hoped a change in wind would save the town from the fate that befell White Pine yesterday.

The fire that destroyed White Pine originated in the McGrath lumber mills and Adjutant General Rhinow did not hesitate to declare he believed it was incendiary. He said he passed through the district a short time before and there were no menacing fires then.

State Forester Cox returned early today from the Onamia district where a bad fire destroyed all the buildings on one farm and burned several thousand tons of hay. Scores of fighters were fighting the flames six miles south of Onamia and they called for help shortly before midnight. Scores of men from Onamia went to the scene. The change in wind today it was believed would help the situation there.

Fire between McGrath and White Pine districts were less menacing today. Reports from the fire area on the north shore of Lake Superior late last night said the situation was not so serious. The fire on Knife river and near Two Harbors were said to be under control.

Officials were praying today that the wind would not switch to the west again. When a thirty-five mile west wind got into the forest region northeast of her yesterday the hundreds of fire fighters were helpless to prevent it spreading. A dozen guardsmen and settlers were overcome yesterday and had to be helped to safety. Others were forced to flee. A repetition of yesterday's west wind it was said, would wipe out Arthyde, Ellson and probably other towns further east.

Northern Minnesota Like Powder Box

St. Paul, Sept. 7—Northern Minnesota and Wisconsin forest fire regions were likened today to a "powder box" by Calvin Dahlgren, supervisor of the Superior national forest.

"The woods are in a much more dangerous condition this fall than in many years,' he said.

"Northern Minnesota is a great powder box right now, waiting for a spark and high wind to duplicate the disaster of 1918. I am surprised, considering the conditions of the woods, that there are no more serious fires."

"There are no fires at present near the Superior national forest but there are some near by. I am in constant touch with rangers, and guards are watching for fires. We had rain a few days ago but in the northern pine region the woods are excellent fire hazard three days after a rain. September is the most hazardous month for fires because of the prevailing high winds. The Superior national forest north of Lake Superior and adjoining the Canadian border covers 180,000 acres.

Onamia Fires Under Control

Little Falls, Minn., Sept. 7—The forest fires west of Onamia are under control, according to a report from Hillman, a village west of Onamia, at noon today. Hillman was threatened by flames last night and residents were ready to move out should the fire become worse. Scores of men fighting the flames there will be able to handle the situation unless a strong wind rises again today, it was said.

As Reported from Duluth

Duluth, Minn., Sept. 7—A bog fire near Rice lake along the Lavaque road was reported by forest rangers today. The fire will not become dangerous until the wind rises, it was said.

Adjutant General Rhinow and party arrived here last night to inspect fires north if here. It was calm this morning, the reports from all fire areas said and there was little danger of fires spreading unless the wind comes up.

Stanley settlers four miles north of the Knife river are on the alert. Dried up swamps near by are burning furiously but it was reported the situation is well in hand.

There was a big fire in the French river section six miles to the southwest Major Fred W. Beecher and 100 men of the First Minnesota field artillery left here at 10 a. m. today for that section to relieve members of the Duluth tank corps who have been in the field since Monday.

Three companies from Stillwater and St. Paul arrived today and were being split into details to cover the fire section.

(By United Press)

JULY RAIL EARNINGS NEAR 5 PER CENT

REPORTS SHOW $68,451,000 INCOME COMPARED TO $11,452,000 DEFICIT YEAR AGO

Washington, Sept. 7.—Reports to the interstate commerce commission from 192 Class 1 railroads of the country, operating 227,618 miles, show a net operating income for July of $68,451,000, as compared with a deficit of $11,452,000 for the same month one year ago.

These figures reflect for the first time the effect of the wage decreases, averaging 12½ per cent, which began on July 1. Eleven more Class 1 roads still are to submit reports for July, and it is probable that the total net operating income for July, 1921, will be at least $70,000,000. On this basis the Class 1 carriers will have earned from 4½ to 5 per cent of the 6 per cent on tentative valuation fixed by the interstate commerce commission, as contemplated by the transportation act of 1920. To have earned the 6 per cent, the roads should have reported a net operating income of about $90,000,000.

Taken as a broad proposition, these figures are most encouraging, in the opinion of experts.

The total operating revenues of the 192 lines reporting for July, 1921, reached $454,255,000, as compared with $518,831,000 for July, 1920, a decrease of 12.4 per cent. This means that the operating revenues, because of the present business depression, were about $64,500,000 less in July of this year than for the same months last year.

On the other hand, operating expenses for July, 1921, were but $355,571,000 as compared with $503,611,000 for July, 1920, a decrease of about $148,000,000, or 29.4 per cent.

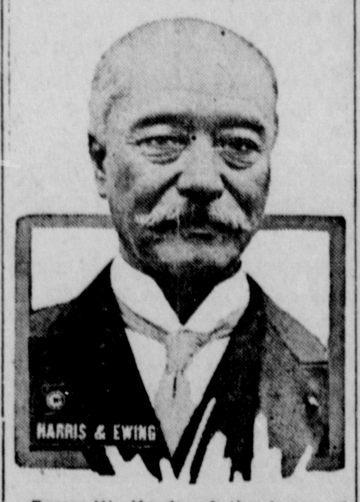

The showing made by the carriers for July under adverse conditions is considered a hopeful sign in the industrial world.

FRED A. WEBER, WIFE AND MINOR SON, ASK DAMAGES FOR INJURIES ON APRIL 10

(St. Cloud Times)

Papers were this morning served on John E. Cooling, local agent of the Northern Pacific Railway Company, by Donahue and Quigley, attorneys, apprising the company of the entering of three damage suits totalling $92,000 as a result of injuries received on April 10 by members of the Fred A. Weber family, 101 Lincoln Ave. southeast. On that date a Chevrolet car, owned and driven by Weber and containing his wife and three minor sons, was struck at the East St. Germain street crossing by train number 13, known as the Winnipeg flyer, due at 10:46 a. m., and the father and mother and four-year old son, Adrian, received severe injuries.

The child received a fractured skull as a result of the collision, in addition to minor injuries, and one suit is brought in the name of the father for $25,000 for the benefit of the boy. Mrs. Margaret M. Weber asks $50,000 for personal injuries, which included wounds about the face and head, and Fred A. Weber sues for $17,000 for personal injuries received, damages to his car, and the expense for medical and hospital treatment incurred.

At the time of the accident the Weber family were driving on St. Germain, and were unaware of the approach of the train until too late to avoid the accident. The train, north bound, struck the car under the front wheels, hurling the machine completely over and throwing out all five of the occupants. The entire family was taken at once to St. Raphael's hospital, where two of the children, Edwin and Victor, were found to be only slightly injured, and the others remained for treatment. Weber at the time asserted that he had heard no warning signal of any kind, either by bell or whistle. The fact that the train was due to stop at the nearby station had caused a slackening of the speed of the limited and a consequent lessening of the volume of noise made in running.

The Weber family moved to St. Cloud in March from a farm three miles west of Rockville.

TOWN OF JEFFRIES, WIS. THREATENED BY FIRE THIS MORNING

LOSS IS ESTIMATED MORE THAN A MILLION DOLLARS—PEOPLE FIGHT TO SAVE HOMES

BIG LUMBER MILLS AND YARDS AND PAPPER MILLS ARE SURE OF DESTRUCTION

(By United Press)

Village Escapes Destruction Merrill, Wis., Sept. 7—Fire of incendiary origin destroyed the hardwood yards of the Larson Lumber company at Jeffries early today. The village which was threatened with destruction for a time, was saved when the fire apparatus from Rhinelander reached the scene.

The flames which started last night destroyed three million feet of lumber vained at $200,000.

Rhinelander, Wis., Sept. 7—A fire which Wednesday morning had swept far beyond control is destroying the entire town of Jeffries, 12 miles from here, and causing damage estimated at $1,000,000. The country for miles around is clouded with smoke and huge pillars of flames were visible in this city even in broad daylight.

Although fire fighting apparatus was rushed to the scene from Rhinlander, Merrill and other nearby towns, hopes of saving the town with its big lumber and paper mills was virtually abandoned.

Nearly the entire population of Jeffries, some three hundred men, women and children, fought desperately all Tuesday night and Wednesday morning to save their homes.

The principal industries of Jeffries are the big lumber mills and pulp and paper plants and a refrigerator factory.

The fire apparently started in the yards of the Larson lumber company where millions of feet of sawed wood was stored. The fire spread with such rapidity that adjoining buildings were soon ablaze. The town is entirely without fire protection.

According to reports reaching Rhineland early Wednesday morning the two hotels, theatre and several stores were on fire as well as a dozen homes. Refugees began reaching here by 8 o'clock loaded down with what little they could save in their haste to leave.

Every piece of fire apparatus here has been rushed to Jeffries with Chief Richard Jule in charge.

RAIL LINES SHOW EARNINGS IN JULY

G. N. AND N. P. MAKE PROFIT THE FIRST TIME THIS YEAR, I. C. C. FIGURES REVEAL

The Great Northern and Northern Pacific systems have turned the corner and begun to show profits from operation, according to their revenue figures for July, filed with the interstate commerce commission and made public today. During the month, the Great Northern had a net operating income of $1,073,147, and the Northern Pacific $947,889.

These figures contrast with deficits for June and for the first six months of the year. The Great Northern showed a net operating deficit for the first half of the year of $1,611,159, and the Northern Pacific had a deficit of $1,836,665.

The July improvement was due to a decrease in operating expense, which amounted to $6,446,000 for the Great Northern, or 33.9 per cent, compared with July of 1920, while gross revenue decreased $8,142,962, or 24.6 per cent. On the Northern Pacific, operating expenses were cut $6,314,000, or 25.8 per cent, and gross revenue fell off $7,877,354, or 14.7 per cent.

Neither system, according to the Wall Street Journal, has enough margin for paying dividends, even on the July showing, without considering losses for the first half of the year.

PROHIB. AGENTS UNEARTH ALCOHOL RING IN CITIES

(By United Press)

Minneapolis, Sept. 7—Prohibition agents today promised sensational developments in an alleged alcohol ring which already has resulted in the arrest of one Minneapolis policeman. H. M. Zimmerman, a former policeman was arrested today as an accomplice of Thomas Russell, the first man arrested. Rusell was asked to resign from the police department immediately after his arrest. Men prominent in both St. Paul and Minneapolis civic circles are involved in the alcohol ring agents said. A large amount of alcohol has been confiscated.

WORKERS SIEZE VESSELS AND BUILDINGS CORK HARBOR

EJECT OFFICIALS FROM THEIR OFFICES AND COLLECT PORT DUES

(By United Press)

Cork, Sept. 7.—Workers in Cork harbor today seized vessels and customs buildings in the port and raised the red flag, announcing that the harbor was to be run for the benefit of the men.

The men's demands for a minimum wage was refused, and they ejected harbor officials from their offices, prevented pilots from boarding their ships, and started collecting harbor dues.

JULY RAIL EARNINGS NEAR 5 PER CENT

REPORTS SHOW $68,451,000 INCOME COMPARED TO $11,452,000 DEFICIT YEAR AGO

Washington, Sept. 7.—Reports to the interstate commerce commission from 192 Class 1 railroads of the country, operating 227,618 miles, show a net operating income for July of $68,451,000, as compared with a deficit of $11,452,000 for the same month one year ago.

These figures reflect for the first time the effect of the wage decreases, averaging 12½ per cent, which began on July 1. Eleven more Class 1 roads still are to submit reports for July, and it is probable that the total net operating income for July, 1921, will be at least $70,000,000. On this basis the Class 1 carriers will have earned from 4½ to 5 per cent of the 6 per cent on tentative valuation fixed by the interstate commerce commission, as contemplated by the transportation act of 1920. To have earned the 6 per cent, the roads should have reported a net operating income of about $90,000,000.

Taken as a broad proposition, these figures are most encouraging, in the opinion of experts.

The total operating revenues of the 192 lines reporting for July, 1921, reached $454,255,000, as compared with $518,831,000 for July, 1920, a decrease of 12.4 per cent. This means that the operating revenues, because of the present business depression, were about $64,500,000 less in July of this year than for the same months last year.

On the other hand, operating expenses for July, 1921, were but $355,571,000 as compared with $503,611,000 for July, 1920, a decrease of about $148,000,000, or 29.4 per cent.

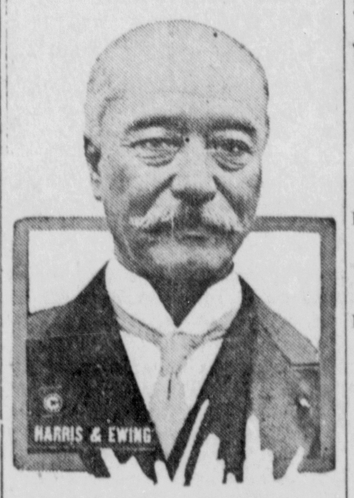

The showing made by the carriers for July under adverse conditions is considered a hopeful sign in the industrial world.

SEEKS $92,000 FROM N. P. ROAD

FRED A. WEBER, WIFE AND MINOR SON, ASK DAMAGES FOR INJURIES ON APRIL 10

(St. Cloud Times)

Papers were this morning served on John E. Cooling, local agent of the Northern Pacific Railway Company, by Donahue and Quigley, attorneys, apprising the company of the entering of three damage suits totalling $92,000 as a result of injuries received on April 10 by members of the Fred A. Weber family, 101 Lincoln Ave. southeast. On that date a Chevrolet car, owned and driven by Weber and containing his wife and three minor sons, was struck at the East St. Germain street crossing by train number 13, known as the Winnipeg flyer, due at 10:46 a. m., and the father and mother and four-year old son, Adrian, received severe injuries.

The child received a fractured skull as a result of the collision, in addition to minor injuries, and one suit is brought in the name of the father for $25,000 for the benefit of the boy. Mrs. Margaret M. Weber asks $50,000 for personal injuries, which included wounds about the face and head, and Fred A. Weber sues for $17,000 for personal injuries received, damages to his car, and the expense for medical and hospital treatment incurred.

At the time of the accident the Weber family were driving on St. Germain, and were unaware of the approach of the train until too late to avoid the accident. The train, north bound, struck the car under the front wheels, hurling the machine completely over and throwing out all five of the occupants. The entire family was taken at once to St. Raphael's hospital, where two of the children, Edwin and Victor, were found to be only slightly injured, and the others remained for treatment. Weber at the time asserted that he had heard no warning signal of any kind, either by bell or whistle. The fact that the train was due to stop at the nearby station had caused a slackening of the speed of the limited and a consequent lessening of the volume of noise made in running.

The Weber family moved to St. Cloud in March from a farm three miles west of Rockville.

TOWN OF JEFFRIES, WIS. THREATENED BY FIRE THIS MORNING

LOSS IS ESTIMATED MORE THAN A MILLION DOLLARS—PEOPLE FIGHT TO SAVE HOMES

BIG LUMBER MILLS AND YARDS AND PAPPER MILLS ARE SURE OF DESTRUCTION

(By United Press)

Village Escapes Destruction

Merrill, Wis., Sept. 7—Fire of incendiary origin destroyed the hardwood yards of the Larson Lumber company at Jeffries early today. The village which was threatened with destruction for a time, was saved when the fire apparatus from Rhinelander reached the scene.

The flames which started last night destroyed three million feet of lumber valued at $200,000.

Rhinelander, Wis., Sept. 7—A fire which Wednesday morning had swept far beyond control is destroying the entire town of Jeffries, 12 miles from here, and causing damage estimated at $1,000,000. The country for miles around is clouded with smoke and huge pillars of flames were visible in this city even in broad daylight.

Although fire fighting apparatus was rushed to the scene from Rhinlander, Merrill and other nearby towns, hopes of saving the town with its big lumber and paper mills was virtually abandoned.

Nearly the entire population of Jeffries, some three hundred men, women and children, fought desperately all Tuesday night and Wednesday morning to save their homes.

The principal industries of Jeffries are the big lumber mills and pulp and paper plants and a refrigerator factory.

The fire apparently started in the yards of the Larson lumber company where millions of feet of sawed wood was stored. The fire spread with such rapidity that adjoining buildings were soon ablaze. The town is entirely without fire protection.

According to reports reaching Rhineland early Wednesday morning the two hotels, theatre and several stores were on fire as well as a dozen homes. Refugees began reaching here by 8 o'clock loaded down with what little they could save in their haste to leave.

Every piece of fire apparatus here has been rushed to Jeffries with Chief Richard Jule in charge.

RAIL LINES SHOW EARNINGS IN JULY

G. N. AND N. P. MAKE PROFIT THE FIRST TIME THIS YEAR, I. C. C. FIGURES REVEAL

The Great Northern and Northern Pacific systems have turned the corner and begun to show profits from operation, according to their revenue figures for July, filed with the interstate commerce commission and made public today. During the month, the Great Northern had a net operating income of $1,073,147, and the Northern Pacific $947,889.

These figures contrast with deficits for June and for the first six months of the year. The Great Northern showed a net operating deficit for the first half of the year of $1,611,159, and the Northern Pacific had a deficit of $1,836,665.

The July improvement was due to a decrease in operating expense, which amounted to $6,446,000 for the Great Northern, or 33.9 per cent, compared with July of 1920, while gross revenue decreased $8,142,962, or 24.6 per cent. On the Northern Pacific, operating expenses were cut $6,314,000, or 25.8 per cent, and gross revenue fell off $7,877,354, or 14.7 per cent.

Neither system, according to the Wall Street Journal, has enough margin for paying dividends, even on the July showing, without considering losses for the first half of the year.

DOUBLE MINNESOTA DAIRY PRODUCTION

The Holstein-Breeders Association Have Taken Steps to Produce This Result

TRADE PURE BRED FOR SCRUBS

Will Be Alloted to Farmers Desiring Them at National Dairy Show Held Oct. 8 to 15

Steps which are destined to double Minnesota's annual dairy production—making it $340,000,000 instead of $170,000,000, the record of last year, have been taken by the Minnesota Holstein Breeders' Association.

Pure-bred bulls are to be traded for scrubs to farmers of Northern Minnesota for the purpose of increasing production in that part of the state. The announcement of this remarkable move to show the farmers how they can double their earnings was made by W. S. Moscrip, a member of the Northwest Dairy Development Committee of 100, which succeeded in bringing the National Dairy Show to Minnesota for the first time to be held at the Minnesota Fair Grounds October 8th to 15th.

"The Minnesota Holstein Breeders' Association has decided to trade pure-bred bulls for scrubs,' said Mr. Moscrip, " for the purpose of increasing dairy production in the northern part of the state. The county agents are making a survey of their counties and informing the farmers of this opportunity to trade their scrubs for pure-bred sires. The association will accept a scrub as the first payment for the pure-bred.

"The scrubs will be assembled at the nearest shipping point and taken to the stockyards, where they will be sold, and the price they bring will be applied as the initial payment on the blue-blooded stock. The breeders' association will carry the rest of the purchase price for two years without interest.

"The pure-bred bulls that are to be exchanged for the scrubs will be assembled at the National Dairy Show at the Minnesota Fair Grounds October 8th to 15th, where they will be allotted to the farmers who trade in their scrubs.

"The cows of Minnesota, averaging 146 pounds of butter fat, produced $170,000,000 for the state last year. In one county, which holds the record for the United States, the average was 140 pounds. The minimum yield should be 300 pounds, so it can be readily seen that the dairy production in this state could be doubled by the use of pure-bred sires.

"The National Dairy Show teaches the use of 400 to 500 pound butter fat producing cows, so if the message of this big agricultural, educational exposition, bringing together the best there is in all branches of the dairy industry, is properly received, dairying agriculture should in two years' time add another $170,000,000 to the buying power of the state.

"The county agents will make their recommendations to the breeders' association as to the farmers they find who appreciate the value of this pure-bred sire campaign, and there will be a pure-bred at the National Dairy Show for every scrub turned in.

"Never before have the farmers of the northwest had such an opportunity to improve their condition as will be afforded them at this big educational exposition. The choicest dairy stock in the United States will be assembled there as object lessons in animal perfection. The most modern equipment used in the farm dairy, the creamery, the cheese factory and the distribution plant will be shown. People from all over the United States and many foreign countries will be present. This great show has been brought right to our very doors and the farmer of the northwest who does not take advantage of this unprecedented opportunity to learn how to improve his stock and equipment and thereby increase his earnings, will lose a chance that never may be presented to him again."

THE POOR MAN'S FRIEND

"It is hard to express our grief and sorrow for our dear friend, Dr. C. S. Reimestad, who was called to his reward," said members of a family he had befriended.

Dr. Reimestad was truly the generous friend of all the poor and the lowly. Many today with limited means are wondering how they can face the future with no one at hand to assist them in illness.

No matter how lowly or humble or miserable a home looked, Dr. Reimestad treated the inmates with all sincere respect and the utmost kindness. Where money was mentioned he used to say: "Do the best you can."

No doubt many took advantage of his generosity. But no one ever heard him complain.

Here is a case that happened away out on the Mille Lacs road on a dark and stormy night. An urgent call came for Dr. Reimestad. The road was in a terrible shape and the doctor had no conveyance of his own just at the time to make a trip. He paid $5 livery bill, made the trip, saved the man's life and brought happiness to a family. When they asked him what they owed him, the doctor merely said: "Do the best you can, my friend."

If any doctor filled the niche in human relations as the ideal family doctor, it was Dr. Reimestad. He was particularly successful in his practice with children and babies.

Yes, the doctor has left us and journeyed to that far away bourne from which no earthly traveler returneth, but the deeds he has done in the past will shine like the stars in the night. In the hearts of the people he has builded his monument.

WHY NO IMMEDIATE RELIEF

The people of the country, beyond question, desire reduction of taxes more than they desire any other one thing, just at this time. However, the people are intelligent enough to understand that the present members of Congress are not responsible for conditions which make immediate reduction of taxes practically impossible.

Both Congress and the officials of the Executive Departments are endeavoring to find every possible means of curtailing public expenditures in order to pave the way for reduced taxation, and with hope of success, but it has been long understood by men familiar with public affairs that many fixed and unavoidable obligations of the government are not susceptible of immediate reduction. This was foreseen when the Republican platform of 1920 was drafted at Chicago. That platform specifically stated that no immediate reduction of taxes could be promised for the reason that the previous administration had conducted the public business in such a wasteful and extravagant manner, and had incurred indebtedness in such degree as to make immediate relief out of the question. The Republican party dealt frankly with the voters. Neither by direct assertion nor inference did it promise immediate relief from tax burdens. On the contrary, it gave clear and unmistakable warning that no immediate relief could be expected.

CRIMINAL PROSECUTIONS DEMANDED

Under the new policy adopted for the strict enforcement of the prohibition law it is announced that it is thoroughly understood among the state directors that no excuses will be accepted for any failure of law enforcement in the territory under their jurisdiction. It is also understood that those making a good record will be accordingly recognized. On account of this it is expected that a great many more arrests and prosecutions will result in the future than have in the past.

The prohibition enforcement authorities, it is said, are going to insist upon criminal prosecutions for violators of the law, in addition to fines. They believe the greatest menace to law enforcement is not in the petty bootlegger who peddles a half pint or a pint, but in the well-to-do wholesale bootlegger, who because of the enormous profits involved, goes into the game of violating the law on a big scale. As a rule this class of law violators are men of wealth and influence and very often of social position. They are not to be deterred merely by the payment of fines but they do fear criminal prosecution and sentence to the penitentiary.

"BUSINESS IN GOVERNMENT"

It is with a feeling of genuine pleasure that the people of the country observe every day more "business in government" at Washington. Business methods are being introduced where hereofore they have never been known, and in consequence more and better work is being done by government clerks than for at least the past ten years.

Administration efforts to put more business into government is not confined to the workings of the Budget Bureau under Director Dawes. All the cabinet officers, their assistants, bureau chiefs, and the personnel on down the line, are viewing the organization and machinery necessary for public administration as they would the organization and machinery of a private corporation. "Dead timber" is being removed, surplus help dispensed with, and the standards of work raised. And as a natural result, rigid economy is replacing wildest extravagance.

SHOULD PAY FOR PRIVILEGE

The industries of all other countries are protesting against the imposition of protective duties at American ports, as a matter of course, which only goes to prove that there is a real need for return to the Republican protective principle. The Republican Congress does not propose to shut out importations entirely, but merely to impose a tax which will put the American producer on something like an equality with the foreign competitor in our own markets. The American producer not only pays local, state and Federal taxes, but he pays the American standard of wages and maintains American standards of working conditions. He buys American raw materials where available. This being true, why shouldn't the foreign importer be required to pay an import tax for the privilege of marketing his cheap products here?

DEFICIENCY APPROPRIATIONS

Deficiency appropriations have long been a problem with congressmen, and one of the results of the Budget law and the creation of the Budget Bureau will probably be the enactment of supplementary legislation dealing with this subject.

The practice of department and bureau heads spending more than their appropriations and then being reimbursed by deficiency appropriations by a succeeding Congress is one which has been indulged in by both Republicans and Democrats alike for the past fifty years. Its long indulgence, however, has proved its evil, and administration leaders are now considering a law to stop department and bureau heads from exceeding the appropriations asked by them in the Budget bill allowed by the Congress, except in cases of genuine emergency.

"DOUGBOYS" WANT PROTECTION

The different organizations of ex-service men have started a movement to have all ex-service men on the government payroll in civilian work given preference over all other employees as reductions are made in the payrolls. Under the law they are now given preference over other applicants for employment, but there is no law at present to protect them from being "let out" when there is a reduction in the personnel of any department. The boys believe that when a choice must be made between dismissing a man who served in the World war and a man or woman who did not, the ex-service man should be the one retained. All things being equal, this is no more than right, too.

CONGESTION IN FEDERAL COURTS

Attorney General Daugherty has laid before the President for approval a new plan of the Deparmtent of Justice to clear up congestion in Federal courts due largely to the accumulation of prohibition enforcement cases. Legislation is proposed to provide additional judges and to clothe the Attorney General with broader authority to systemize court procedure and facilitate the handling of litigation. Congress may be asked to give the Attorney General the power to assign judges outside of their districts to aid other judges.

With a Republican Congress and a Republican executive striving to outdo each other in making a record for retrenchment and economy, the poor taxpayer stands a pretty good show to be the beneficiary. During the eight years of Democratic rule there was no competition to see who could reduce expenses most.

Everyone will readily admit that college professors are all right in their places, but they pay few taxes and hence are not good "experts" in drafting tax laws. The Republican administration is gradually getting us out from under a tax system that was drafted by the professors.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, has asked Canadian labor leaders to meet him in conference to discuss the labor situation in Canada. It is intimated that some policy is to be formed to meet problems now confronted by organized labor or likely to arrive during the winter.

In a review of financial and economical conditions, the Federal Reserve Board says indications of a broad general business recovery throughout the country still are lacking, but "fairly good agricultural yields and enlargement of manufacturing demands seem to point to a more favorable autumn season."

One of the outstanding features of the Fordney tariff bill is it provisions to promote the sale of American goods in foreign countries. This is provided for in the reciprocal provisions of the bill, which are more liberal than in any tariff bill yet enacted.

Reports just completed by the division of free employment of the State Industrial Commission show that more than 54,000 applicants were placed in positions throughout the state during the past year.

THE POOR MAN'S FRIEND

"It is hard to express our grief and sorrow for our dear friend, Dr. C. S. Reimestad, who was called to his reward," said members of a family he had befriended.

Dr. Reimestad was truly the generous friend of all the poor and the lowly. Many today with limited means are wondering how they can face the future with no one at hand to assist them in lilness.

No matter how lowly or humble or miserable a home looked, Dr. Reimestad treated the inmates with all sincere respect and the utmost kindness. Where money was mentioned he used to say: "Do the best you can."

No doubt many took advantage of his generosity. But no one ever heard him complain.

Here is a case that happened away out on the Mille Lacs road on a dark and stormy night. An urgent call came for Dr. Reimestad. The road was in a terrible shape and the doctor had no conveyance of his own just at the time to make a trip. He paid $5 livery bill, made the trip, saved the man's life and brought happiness to a family. When they asked him what they owed him, the doctor merely said: "Do the best you can, my friend."

If any doctor filled the niche in human relations as the ideal family doctor, it was Dr. Reimestad. He was particularly successful in his practice with children and babies.

CATTLE DIE FROM STRANGE DISEASE

Ten Head Lost by A. Christian, Due to Dry Weather Said Owner of the Herd

MORRISON COUNTY MALADY

25 Head Died of Hemorrhagic Septicaemia, a Cattle Disease, in Platte Township

A strange malady is causing the death of cattle in Crow Wing county. A. Christian reports the death of ten head in his herd which he believes due to dry weather and the fact that the cattle cropped dry pasturage too close to the roots and ate dirt too.

The Little Falls Transcript reports the prevalence of hemorrhabic septicaemia, a cattle disease, in Platte township of Morrison county, according to the statement made by J. H. Schmidt, veterinary surgeon. Dr. Schmidt was called to that neighborhood and vaccinated a herd of cattle, four of which have died from disease.

...ase in Morrison county thus far has been limited to farms where wild pasture is in use.

Dr. C. A. Nelson took exception the Little Falls' statement that the disease was prevailing in Crow Wing county. It is reported it has assumed epidemic proportions in some section of Wisconsin.

Thus far the number of deaths in Morrison county, from the disease is about 25. Vaccination seems to have checked the spread of the disease in Parker and other townships in Morrison county.

Peace Army Mobilizes!

September will witness the mobilization of America's great army of peace—the youth of our nation returning to take up their studies in academy, college, and school-house.

America may well be proud of her educational system. The American boy or girl who takes the fullest advantage of an American education is well fitted for leadership and success.

CATTLE DIE FROM STRANGE DISEASE

Ten Head Lost by A. Christian, Due to Dry Weather Said Owner of the Herd

MORRISON COUNTY MALADY

25 Head Died of Hemorrhagic Septicaemia, a Cattle Disease, in Platte Township

A strange malady is causing the death of cattle in Crow Wing county. A. Christian reports the death of ten head in his herd which he believes due to dry weather and the fact that the cattle cropped dry pasturage too close to the roots and ate dirt too.

The Little Falls Transcript reports the prevalence of hemorrhabic septicaemia, a cattle disease, in Platte township of Morrison county, according to the statement made by J. H. Schmidt, veterinary surgeon. Dr. Schmidt was called to that neighborhood and vaccinated a herd of cattle, four of which have died from disease.

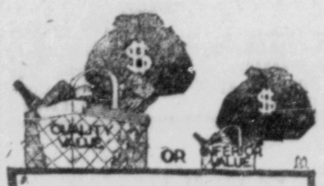

...ase in Morrison county thus far has been limited to farms where wild pasture is in use.

Dr. C. A. Nelson took exception the Little Falls' statement that the disease was prevailing in Crow Wing county. It is reported it has assumed epidemic proportions in some section of Wisconsin.

Thus far the number of deaths in Morrison county, from the disease is about 25. Vaccination seems to have checked the spread of the disease in Parker and other townships in Morrison county.

NEW PRICE FOR WIVES

(By United Press)

The Pas, Man., Sept. 7.—What is the commercial value of a beautiful wife? The question has divided learned jurists through the ages. But Eskimo land has its own fixed rules. John Littlebear is a trapper. He resides in the frozen stretches to the north of the Brochette fur post of the Hudson's Bay Company. John recently disposed of four wives in twelve days. All being especially beautiful, he received the top market price. Each wife brought one pound of tea and two plugs of tobacco.

"Dropping off ballast," was John's laconic explanation to interpreters. There was a glut of wives and not a leaf of tea or tobacco. One by one the dutiful wives were dropped.

Purchasers, reports say, were fellow tribesmen returning from the fur post heavily laden with supplies. They had long admired John's handsome wives and were ready bidders.

Big Day at Fair

St. Paul, Sept. 7.—Today was the "biggest day" of the Minnesota State Fair.

Automobile races were to furnish thrills for Livestock Day, Veterans Day and Farm Bureau Day, all combined in one.

James R. Howard, president of the National Farm Bureau Federation, was to be here for Farm Bureau activities. Senator Arthur Capper, of Kansas, was also expected to speak.

The automobile races were to include leading dirt track speed demons of the country.

Livestock Day meant a special program of interest to livestock breeders and livestock showmen.

Veterans Day meant a gathering of veterans of all wars for a patriotic and memorial program.

Thursday will be Pioneer's Day and Duluth Day at the state fair, and Friday will be St. Paul Day. Saturday there will be another program of automobile races.

Test State Law

Bismarck, Sept. 7.—Further effort to get a decision on the constitutionality of the state law limiting tax levies for cities, will be made today by City Attorney Shure of Fargo. In a test case against the law brought when a special election was called in Fargo to increase the levy 25 per cent, District Judge Cole pronounced the law unconstitutional. Appeal was taken to the supreme lourt, but Judge Robertson, then chief justice, refused to advance it to this term. Since then Judge R. H. Grace has succeeded as chief justice and will be asked to advance the case.

The law required that the tax levy of a city cannot be increased above a certain limit except by consent of the voters through special election.

Potato Crops Good

Hoople, N. D., Sept. 7.—The fact that 93 per cent of the farmers near Hoople and Dark River own their homes is attributed to their extensive potato crops. On the expectation of a dollar a bushel, it is estimated that the crop this year will bring in a half million. This will mean 500,000 bushels, 150 an acre on an average, or double last year's yield.

Three potato warehouses do business in Hoople alone. Crop rotation is the general practice around here.

NEW PRICE FOR WIVES

(By United Press)

The Pas, Man., Sept. 7.—What is the commercial value of a beautiful wife? The question has divided learned jurists through the ages. But Eskimo land has its own fixed rules. John Littlebear is a trapper. He resides in the frozen stretches to the north of the Brochette fur post of the Hudson's Bay Company. John recently disposed of four wives in twelve days. All being especially beautiful, he received the top market price. Each wife brought one pound of tea and two plugs of tobacco.

"Dropping off ballast," was John's laconic explanation to interpreters. There was a glut of wives and not a leaf of tea or tobacco. One by one the dutiful wives were dropped.

Purchasers, reports say, were fellow tribesmen returning from the fur post heavily laden with supplies. They had long admired John's handsome wives and were ready bidders.

C. N. I had such severe pains when I bent it was about all I could do to straighten again. There was a dull ache in my kidneys that annoyed me a great deal and I was surely feeling pretty mean. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they helped me, making me feel like a different person. I use Doan's occasionally and they keep me in good health."
